College of Marin slashes administrative costs while generating additional revenue

Client: College of Marin

Challenge: Cut costs by optimizing facility management process

College of Marin needed a tool for all their facility usage - from managing their course schedule to administering external facility requests and approvals. The Facilitron platform delivered that and more allowing administrators to consolidate campus data into a single, centralized place – saving significant time and money. For facility rentals, Facilitron turned a cumbersome and time-consuming process into a simple one, not only for the major College of Marin stakeholders (admins, custodians, department heads, coaches, finance and accounting, etc) but also for community organizations. The result is a tool that saves time and money and helps to better monetize College of Marin's facility usage.

"Facilitron has significantly reduced our administrative costs while allowing us to better monetize our facilities. The benefit really hits the bottom line"

- Greg Nelson, VP Finance & College Operations,
College of Marin

...is a cloud-based platform to manage, schedule and rent public facilities. It enables public schools, colleges and municipalities to showcase, monetize and manage their facilities – consolidating financial and usage data, communications, and calendars all in one place.
